1926

May 24---Ashbourne Country Club---Cheltenham, PA---Par 70

Host Professional---Dave Cuthbert

Winner---Jack Campbell---Old York Country Club---74-75=149

Runner-up---Jim Edmundson---North Hills Country Club---77-73=150

First prize was $100 and six players earned money.

1927

May 23---Concord Country Club---Concordville, PA---Par 72

Host Professional---Bill Schuebel

Winner---Joe Coble---Philmont Country Club---71-77=148

Runner-up---Bill Leach---Overbrook Golf Club---72-78=150

Concord Country Club added money to the purse and provided a free lunch to every player and visitor. Concord Country Club was formerly called Brinton Lake Club. Coble had a hole-in-one in the first round and his 71 was a course record. Ten players finished in the money.

1928

May 21---Philmont CC (North Course)---Huntingdon, Valley, PA---Par 70

Host Professional---Joe Coble

Winner---Clarence Hackney---Atlantic City Country Club---72-78=150

Runner-up---George Smith---Moorestown Field Club---76-75=151

1929

May 20---Bala Golf Club---Philadelphia, PA---Par 68

Host Professional---Lou Goldbeck

Winner---George Smith---Moorestown Field Club---69-73=142

Runner-up---Leo Shea---Riverton Country Club---73-70=143

There was a rules question during the second round concerning Shea's tee shot on the third hole. He had driven in the direction of a water hazard next to the green and the ball could not be found. Bala Golf Club had a local rule stating that the water hazard was not a penalty if your drive went into it. Shea played a second ball. He made a four with the first ball, assuming his drive was in the hazard and dropping behind the hazard. He made a six with the second ball. The result of the championship was undecided until June 11. The USGA made the ruling that the six was his score as there was little evidence that his ball entered the hazard.
